

Les Houches Summer School: Emergent electronic states confined at interfaces

July 6 – July 25, 2020, Les Houches, France

Dear Colleagues,

We are very excited to announce the hundred and fifteenth edition of the Les Houches summer school which will be hosted by the Les Houches Physics Center in Les Houches, France <https://www.houches-school-physics.com/the-school/>

The program will consist of pedagogical sets of lectures, Q&A sessions, invited talks, and poster presentations.

We are primarily aiming at an attendance of PhD, Post-docs, junior researchers, but will welcome applications from a broader research community.

A flyer of the first announcement is attached. A second announcement will kick off the application phase. Please be advised that the center may only accommodate 60 participants.

Feel free to distribute this mail broadly to your Colleagues.

Sincerely

Marc Gabay, LPS, Univ. Paris-Sud-Paris-Saclay, France

Masashi Kawasaki, the University of Tokyo, Japan

Andrew Millis, Columbia University and the Flatiron Institute, USA

Jean-Marc Triscone, Univ. Geneva, Switzerland

Ralph Claessen Univ. Julius-Maximilians, Germany (Advisory)

Jochen Mannhart, MPI Stuttgart, Germany (Advisory)

Marc Gabay
Marc.gabay@u-psud.fr